Federal Cut In Steel for Autos July 1

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The government announced today that steel supplies for autos and other consumer "hard goods" will be cut about one-third below pre-Korea levels on July 1.

This will mean reductions ranging from 10 to 15 per cent below present civilian levels.

Copper and aluminum will be somewhat tighter than steel, Edwin T. Gibson, acting Defense Production Administrator said.

Gibson told a news conference that about 2,000,000 tons of steel will be available for refrigerators, passenger cars, washing machines and other household appliances in the July-August-September quarter, as against 3,000,000 tons on the average before the outbreak of fighting.

The announcement was made shortly after the government ordered steel mills to set aside sharply increased percentages of their output for July delivery on military priorities.

FREEPORT, (AP) — John Powers, 24, a Freeport carpenter, was killed last night when his automobile rammed into a bridge abutment near German Valley, east of Freeport. Police said they believed Powers, who had been working late, had fallen asleep at the wheel, as he drove home.

Green River Plant 'All-Out War' Standby

Ordinance Chief, Senators Reply to Letter

Quell Rumors That Local Plant Would Open in Near Future

The Green River Ordnance plant will not be reactivated unless there is an "all out emergency."

This puts to rest rumors circulated by irresponsible sources that the plant would reopen soon.

Senators Everett M. Dirksen and Paul Douglas and Representative Leo Allen notified the Dixon chamber of commerce today that the defense department has no intention of reopening the plant at present.

Senator Douglas included a letter from Maj. Gen. E. L. Ford, army chief of ordnance, which said that the Defense department has not changed its plans in regard to the Green River plant.

The legislators wrote in answer to an inquiry made by Chamber of Commerce President Victor Eichler asking whether the present status of the plant would be changed.

See No Need
The chamber of commerce in Dixon and groups in surrounding communities had requested the Defense department that the plant be reopened. A brochure was prepared and sent to officials in Washington.

In his letter, Senator Dirksen said, "I have made a number of inquiries and they advise that Today's chamber of commerce announcement follows closely a similar report printed by The Evening Telegraph several times in the past based on reliable Washington sources. It is the endeavor of The Evening Telegraph to prevent "gossip" from disrupting community life, causing "runs" on employment offices, and disconcerting the local labor supply. The Evening Telegraph shares with others a desire that, should the local ordnance plant be required to fill defense needs, it be opened immediately.

They have no foreseeable need for opening of the Green River Ordnance plant."

Gen. Ford in a letter to Senator Douglas said, "There has been no change in the status of the Green River Ordnance plant with respect to reactivation."

More Than Used

In explaining the present situation, Cong. Leo Allen wrote, "It is my understanding that present facilities are producing more explosives than are currently being used; that the present plan is to reactivate a few small plants (plants which operated during World War II) for stock piling purposes."

The Green River plant will not be one of the plants reactivated for stockpiling as it is not a private plant, Allen explained.

Douglas' Letter

Senator Douglas says, "I think most of us sincerely hope that our present emergency will not extend to the point of making necessary the reactivation of all reserve plants, but if it should, it appears that the Green River plant will be among the first to be reactivated."

Douglas received his information from Gen. Ford who says, "Ordnance Corps plans to meet changing needs are, however, under constant review and should new requirements develop for which the facilities at Green River can be effectively utilized its reactivation will be given careful consideration. In the event of an all-out emergency the productive capacity of all National Industrial Reserve plants, of which Green River is one, will be required and the excellent state of preservation of Green River facilities assure that it will be one of the first to be put back into service after reactivation of our established departmental reserve of standby plants."

C. of C. Directors Will Meet Monday

The board of directors of the Dixon chamber of commerce will meet Monday, May 21, at 6:30 p. m. at the Nachusa House.

Senate Committee Upholds Gen. Bradley's Refusal to Reveal Talks With Truman

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senate investigators upheld today the refusal of Gen. Omar N. Bradley to testify about President Truman's private talks with his advisers on firing Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) said the vote was 18 to 8.

The action sustained a decision by Senator Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the joint armed services and foreign relations committee that Bradley had a right to keep silent on the talks.

Bradley declined on Tuesday to tell the committee, in response to questions by Senator Wiley (R-Wis.), what was said at a White House conference April 6 which led to the president's dismissal of MacArthur as Pacific commander on April 11.

Faced With Contempt
A vote to overturn Russell's ruling could have led to a formal demand that Bradley answer the questions or face possible charges of contempt of congress.

By and large, the argument of those upholding Russell's decision was that the constitution's division of powers between congress and the executive department denied to congress the right to demand "confidential information" from the president.

Wiley disagreed with the legal argument and contended the inquiry panel had a right to know about the talks at the White House meeting which he said had the purpose "to get MacArthur to lay a basis for his removal."

The decision cleared the way for the committee to go back to actual hearings.

Wiley said the American people "will be deeply disappointed that high individuals do not feel that the American people are entitled to the facts (about) how the removal of MacArthur was brought about."

He urged that President Truman "release Gen. Bradley and any subsequent witness from any pledge, open or implied" to withhold confidential information, "and direct them to come through."

Only yesterday, the White House said Truman did not want Bradley to testify about the private talks.

Russia Fails To Block Red Arms Embargo

NEW YORK, (AP) — Russia failed today to shift debate on a proposed world arms embargo against Red China to the United Nations Security Council, where a Soviet veto could kill it.

The question was settled without a vote in the general assembly after the Soviet bloc announced it would not participate in the committee's discussion on the ground that the security council was the only competent agency to debate the question.

However, Russia's Jacob Malik insisted that he was not asking the committee to vote on the question of competence. Chairman Roberto Arbelaez-Urdanet, Colombia, then gave the floor to U. S. Ambassador Ernest Gross to introduce the embargo proposal.

Tax Deadline Saturday Dixon Assessor Warns

Saturday is the deadline for filing property tax schedules for persons in Dixon township, A. C. Handell, township assessor said today.

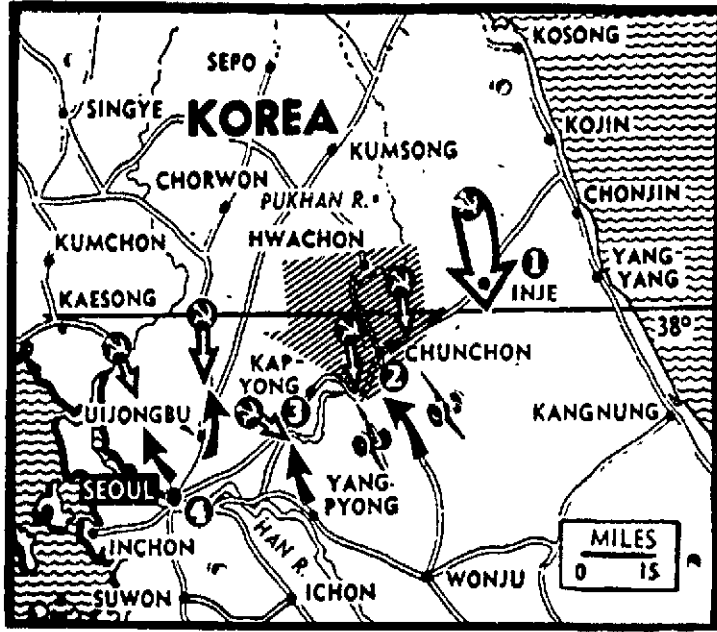

After Saturday persons filing late schedules must pay a penalty. The tax schedule should be sent to Handell at the township assessor's office, 315 Highland ave.

Handell and his deputy assessors have been working for over a month compiling information used to determine what each property owner must pay. When the tax schedules are in, the county treasurer will publish his tax list. The board of review will pass on the assessment and hear any complaints.

Make Plans for C. of C. Play Day

Plans are being made for a play day at the country club June 21 for members of the retail division of the chamber of commerce, committee chairman Joe Riederer announced today.

Retail division members are urged to get their replies into the chamber of commerce office immediately.

REDS RENEW ATTACKS—Chinese Communist troops recaptured Inje (1) and sent other heavy attacks against Allied lines all the way across Korea. On the central front, where Reds have been reported massing heaviest forces, the Communists threw two heavy attacks against strongpoints east of Chunghong (2) and forced several bridgeheads across the Pukhan river west of the city. Allied patrols fought a seven-hour battle with Red forces southwest of Kapyong (3) and then fell back. Two enemy attacks north and northwest of Seoul (4) were beaten back, but Allied commanders braced for a major Red push in that sector.

President Truman Raps Taft, MacArthur on China Policies

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman lashed out today at Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Republican Senator Taft for seeking, as the president put it, to have this country "go for an all-out war in China all by ourselves."

Mr. Truman virtually discarded a written speech prepared for the National Conference on Citizenship. He told his audience that one week of all-out war would cost this country "10 to 20 times" what it is costing to rearm and contain the fighting in Korea.

"We must have friends in this troubled world," the President extemporized. "Some senators and some other people would have us go it alone."

Predicts Controls
This was an indirect reference to testimony by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whom he ousted from the Far Eastern commands last month.

Mr. Truman, appealing for strengthened price and rent control legislation, said there was no question that congress will vote a two-year extension of controls expiring June 30.

He said the decisions he and congress will make on this, on defense rearming and on foreign aid "ought to be above petty politics, because the welfare of the country depends on them."

He pleaded for consumers to put pressure on congress for strong price and rent controls and for higher taxes.

Even in departing from his text, the President did not refer to Senator Taft by name. In his prepared speech Mr. Truman hung an "invitation-to-war" tag on the Ohio senator's proposal to reduce the armed forces' manpower goal by 500,000 men.

The President denounced "pen-pinchers" on foreign aid, and accused some of his opponents of "playing politics" at a time of "very real" danger of war with Russia.

Declaring that unless existing controls, due to expire June 30, are extended and strengthened "the cost of living will go through the roof," Mr. Truman said:

Warns of Lobbies
"The special interests and the lobbies will wreck this stabilization program, as sure as you're born, unless the main body of the citizens of this country get busy and do something about it."

Mr. Truman did not mention Senator Taft by name but he left no doubt he had the Ohioan in mind when he told the conference:

"A suggestion was made by one senator the other day that we ought to cut down the goal of our armed forces by half a million men. At a time like this, such a cut would be very foolish. "Slashing the size of our armed forces would not be an economy, it would be an invitation to war."

Fireworks, Boat Regatta on Tap Here on Fourth

Fireworks, boat regattas and concerts will provide entertainment for Dixon residents over the Fourth of July holidays, C. L. Ballard, committee chairman said today.

The fireworks will be displayed on the north bank of the Rock river between the Galena bridge and the dam.

The boat races, which will be held before the fireworks displays, are to be staged on the river above the dam.

During the day, the city and the Dixon state hospital bands will play at Lowell park. It is expected that many local firms will have employe picnics at the park as well as private outings.

The Fourth of July celebration is an annual affair sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

Merkle School to Picnic Sunday

The annual closing day picnic of the Merkle school near Harmon will be held Sunday, May 20, at noon (CDT).

Dixon Will Be Host to 50,000 Legionnaires

Launch Plans Here For 2nd Division Vets Convention

Plans for the Illinois Second division convention of the American Legion in August, at which 50,000 Legionnaires are expected in Dixon, were heard by post members at a special meeting last night.

Karl Yost, Morrison, Second division commander, talked on plans for the big convention, which local Legionnaires expect to draw the largest crowd ever gathered in Dixon. Also at the special meeting was Robert Huntley, Rock Falls, Second division adjutant.

About 190 Legion posts throughout the northern section of Illinois will be represented at the three-day meeting, scheduled for Aug. 3-5. The Second division comprises the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th state Legion districts, which encompass Illinois from Joliet to the Wisconsin border and from west Chicago to the Iowa border.

Features Dozen Bands
The mammoth Legion affair will feature about a dozen legion post bands and drum and bugle corps in a parade which will reach its climax when it passes a reviewing stand set up at the Galena street memorial arch.

The Second division's convention will be held in conjunction with the annual Injun Summer Days celebration sponsored by the Dixon Chamber of Commerce, and the parade on Aug. 5 will feature floats by local business firms and civic and patriotic organizations.

The local Legion post, commanded by John Mitchell, has named Jake Snyder and Hy Weider as a housing committee to look after lodging accommodations for the thousands of Legionnaires.

Contacting All Hotels
Snyder and Weider will contact all hotels and lodging places in Dixon, Sterling and Rock Falls to find suitable housing for the visiting ex-servicemen.

Francis Gehant, Post 12 publicity chairman, said the Chicago and NorthWestern railroad would run a special Pullman train to accommodate "at least 500" Legionnaires from Chicago and Aurora. The train will arrive Saturday afternoon, Aug. 4, and depart the following night, with delegates lodging in Pullman cars overnight.

After passing the reviewing stand in the Sunday parade, bands will be picked as finalists to compete for about $2,500 in cash prizes in contests to be held at the Dixon high school athletic field.

Britain Sends 'Stern' Note To Iran on Oil

TEHRAN, Iran, (AP) — A National Front deputy told the Majlis (parliament) today that British pressure on Iran will cause World War III.

LONDON, (AP)—Britain sent Iran a stern note today reportedly calling for high level talks to settle their oil dispute.

The note was dispatched to British Ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd in Tehran. The foreign office said Sir Francis would deliver it to the Persian government at the first opportunity.

This, however, may not be until Saturday, as Friday is the Moslem equivalent of western world's Sunday.

During the day, the city and the Dixon state hospital bands will play at Lowell park. It is expected that many local firms will have employe picnics at the park as well as private outings.

The Fourth of July celebration is an annual affair sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

Toll Plan for State Trucks Wins Approval

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—A bill to set up an Illinois toll truck highway authority has won senate executive committee approval.

The authority would be empowered to designate main routes as toll truck highways, collect six cents a mile from trucks using them, keep up and expand the toll truck highway system and issue $380,000,000 in bonds payable from mileage collections.

The bill, which carries a $50,000 appropriation, was endorsed yesterday and referred to the appropriations committee.

Seoul Defenses Hold; Yanks Plug Breach

Communists Die By Thousands in Spring Offensive

TOKYO, Friday, (AP)—Chinese Reds smashed against strong Allied defenses ringing Seoul late last night in a new blow of their second spring offensive, which exploded all along the Korean front.

But, so searing was United Nations fire on the Seoul perimeter, that the Chinese fled after a four and a half-hour battle.

AP Correspondent John Randolph, on the Western front, said an estimated 400 Red casualties were counted on the moonlit battlefield.

Elsewhere along the rugged mountainous front, Red casualties were estimated in the thousands.

On the east-central sector, the Chinese smashed a hole in South Korean ranks and poured through. Other allied forces rushed up and plugged the gap by nightfall.

Storm U. S. Positions
Waves of Chinese stormed U. S. positions. But every time the Americans were pushed off a hill they counterattacked to recapture the high ground.

The actions were along the east-central front, hottest sector of the 75 mile wide battleground.

Field dispatches said 86,000 Chinese were attacking in the 25 mile length of the east central sector in the opening stages of an all-out Communist offensive.

Report New Buildup
Another 25,000 Reds were reported gathering strength on the Pukhan valley invasion route of the west central sector.

Front line officers said Red strategy appeared to be to hit the center of the line regardless of losses.

Communists attacked relentlessly. UN planes, artillery and mine fields took a heavy toll.

"We are killing them" by the thousands," a UN air officer said. Artillery batteries fired at a record pace. "We are not firing except at groups of 100 or more," an artilleryman said.

The U. S. Eighth Army estimated Communist casualties Wednesday at 3,582. The Fifth Air Force said it added 850 Thursday in 617 combat strikes before 6 p. m.

Casualties in Korea 65,523

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Announced U. S. casualties in Korea today reached 65,523, an increase of 1,468 since last week.

Of the wounded, 1,163 later died. Also 101 of the missing are known dead. This raises the total of deaths to 11,112.

The missing total also includes 1,169 who have since returned to U. S. military control and 115 known prisoners of war.

Army casualties increased 1,301 during the week to reach 54,416. The navy reported a new total of 691, nine more than last week. Marine corps casualties rose 136 to reach 9,831. The air force reported 22 additional casualties for a total of 585.

Gambling Disappears in Phenix City, Alabama Wide-Open Reno

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—The heart beat of a wide open town, is missing. The sudden shutdown came despite roaring defiance to a clean-up campaign from liberal elements who said strict legality would cost $300,000 in new taxes.

Cry Smoke Screen

Foes of gambling shouted back that the issue of a "racket-ridden or tax ridden" city was a smoke screen.

The Phenix City grapevine credits Gov. Persons, to whom two cleanup groups had appealed, with clamping the lid on gambling. So does Hugh Bentley, head of a 100-member committee, which sparked the cleanup drive. "Of course the governor did it," Bentley said. "He promised us a 25 per cent improvement in a year, and we have much more than that now."

In Montgomery, the governor who publicly sent one investigator to Phenix City and probably dispatched others without fanfare, was not available for comment.

Wide Open Mecca

Phenix City, with a population of 23,000, lies in the geographic and economic shadow of Columbus, Ga., a textile manufacturing center less than a block away across two Chattahoochee river bridges. For many years, this has been a wide open mecca for fun-seekers, particularly the hundreds of thousands of soldiers who have passed through Fort Benning, Ga.

Think It Over

BALTIMORE, (AP)—Harry B. Jones, 35, explained to the judge he swiped a hearse "To see how the thing rode before I died."

He almost got both answers at the same time. Jones wrecked the hearse in a collision at a street intersection, but escaped unhurt.

Judge S. Ralph Warnke gave him three years in prison to recall the experience.

Cripps Critical

ZURICH, Switzerland, (AP)—The condition of Sir Stafford Cripps, former British chancellor of the exchequer, is causing "great and continuing anxiety."

A statement issued here yesterday by his wife said the pioneer Laborite not only is suffering from a tubercular infection of the spine—as previously announced—but is being treated for an abdominal complication which Lady Cripps described as a "rare and dangerous disease."

The abdominal complication was not otherwise identified.

Evidence has been found that sheep were domesticated in the stone ages.

JERSEYS BOUNCE TO HIS MOO-O-O-D MOOSIC—Claude Holmes' contented cows give out with a mellow bellow when he plays the cello in his barn at Brighton, O. Holmes farms 188 acres, but manages to find time to play cello in the Wellington (O.) community orchestra. Holmes practices in the barn because the cows like music. "It keeps them contented," he says. "They like Wagner best."

Economic Controls Extension Faces Rough Going in Congress

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The administration plowed on in the economic controls field today while keeping a weather eye cocked at storm clouds gathering over capitol hill.

With the present defense act due to expire June 30, and several congressmen declaring they'll balk at the broader control powers asked by President Truman, defense agencies:

1. Planned further cuts in production of 57 civilian goods, including passenger cars, starting July 1.
2. Ruled that retail prices of automobiles must be reduced May 22 to allow for the absence of spare tires and tubes as standard equipment.
3. Directed manufacturers of cotton yarns and textiles to compute new ceiling prices effective May 28.
4. Ordered a nationwide inquiry into reports of illegal livestock slaughtering.
5. Laid down a formula for figuring ceiling prices for soybeans at the farm level.

In the meantime, talk grew in congress in favor of a mere extension of the present defense act—under which controls are authorized—instead of the broader powers Truman requested.

Hold Hearings

Hearings on these requests are being held by both the senate and house banking committees but many legislators fear they might not be able to finish the job before the June 30 deadline.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the senate committee said yesterday the administration had better start thinking of a temporary extension or run the chance of not having any controls.

India Planning Radio Increases

NEW DELHI, (AP)—India's government-operated radio network must adapt future program plans to 76 regional languages spoken by at least 200,000 people.

Information and broadcasting Minister R. R. Diwakar told parliament that the government's All-India Radio now caters to 14 Indian languages, many of their dialects, and English.

One million radio sets within two years is the target of government campaigns to spread interest in radio. In August, 1947, Diwakar said, there were 205,263 sets in the country, with an increase of 10,000 monthly.

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Jimmy Stewart's wife Gloria was somewhat improved today, but her physician Dr. Mark Rabwin, said her condition remains serious.

Mrs. Stewart has had five blood transfusions since she gave birth to twin girls May 7 by Caesarean section. The 32-year-old Mrs. Stewart underwent two operations for intestinal obstruction after she gave birth to the twins.

the senate committee said yesterday the administration had better start thinking of a temporary extension or run the chance of not having any controls.

Woman's Club Of Oregon Plans Program

OREGON—The Oregon Woman's club is completing plans to set up a Newcomer's Register in Oregon, at the present time. Each month the new families will be welcomed by the Ogle County Republican-Reporter, so that they may feel welcome to Oregon and become acquainted more quickly. The Hospitality committee of the club will arrange for these people to be called on.

The club is also making plans to cooperate with the city council in making Mix park a complete city park, with playground equipment and fireplaces for outdoor cooking. The baseball diamond will be improved and the backstop repaired. A civic project committee of the Woman's club will confer with the park commissioner of the city council and the recreation board is planning the improvements.

The ultimate goal of the club is to assist in providing summer supervised play for all of the young people of Oregon, with full-time recreational director in charge. The Woman's club will operate on a budget next year and it is hoped that the membership will be large enough to be able to use half of each member's dues in furthering the park project.

Lawn Party

The VFW auxiliary will have a lawn party Friday night beginning at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Army Piske. The proceeds will go toward new uniforms.

Burros 'Bear' Up Under Trip

NEW YORK, (AP) — At the 12,000 acre Ten Mile River Scout Camps in Narrowsburg, N. Y., 100 miles from here, 43 burros have been imported from Texas to help Boy Scouts learn the skills of the "wide open spaces." Only 42 burros left Texas, but an addition was born enroute.

Boys attending the camps will be taught proper trail packing methods and how to tie a real "diamond hitch." All in all, the imported burros are expected to bring the old west up close for New York scouts this summer.

Fishermen Use Biblical Method

PORT ROYAL, Ont., (AP)—Fishing methods of Biblical times are repeated on the shores of Lake Erie's Long Point Bay near here by fishermen who cast their nets into the shallow water and draw them into shore.

One end of their long nets is anchored close to shore, and the other pulled through a long semi-circle by men wading or on boats. The fishermen begin their season when the ice leaves the bay, and end only when it freezes over.

Ravenous 'Rab' Legend Revived
GLASGOW, (AP)—The legend of Rab Hall, the Glasgow Glutton reputed to have eaten a whole calf at a sitting, has taken a new lease on life. Stories of his gastronomic prowess more than 100 years ago were revived when workmen tidying up neglected corners of Gorbals Cemetery came across his last resting place.

Rab, who died in 1843, was originally a farm servant. He turned from farming when he found he could live better as a professional eater. The wealthy gave him gargantuan free meals, laying wagers on the staggering capacity of his stomach. He collected his percentage of the winnings.

Ozone Maker
NEW YORK, (AP)—Researchers at General Electric laboratories say they have produced a device that creates ozone as though it were being released from a bottle.

The new gadget is said to enable housewives to produce in their homes the same fresh, clean effect noted in the atmosphere after a thunderstorm.

Inflation Another Enemy

The battle over General MacArthur in congress has been blanketing out the battle of men and arms in Korea. Both have come near pushing another struggle completely off the stage—a struggle the loss of which could be more catastrophic for Americans and the free world than a military setback on the Far Eastern front. It is the battle against inflation.

How is it going? Not too well, although the picture is not all black and all of the hard-pressed fronts are not lost beyond recovery.

The Federal Reserve's moves to tighten credit and to raise the interest rate by no longer supporting government bonds can be put down on the side of victory. The magazine Business Week believes they are proving really effective.

Organized labor is now back in policy-making and policy-administering posts on the economic mobilization team and apparently ready to play ball. This is important and encouraging.

Mr. DiSalle's price enforcement staff—the rear guard which must fight a stubborn holding action until the main army can be brought up—will soon be somewhere near large enough to make itself felt.

But the hostile forces massing against controls are strong. And they are likely to increase rather than decrease during the next year.

First is the massive and impersonal fact that defense production has yet to really bite into consumer items. Price rises so far have been due much more to panic and precautionary demand than to any great lack in supply.

Second are the pressures for special concessions from the we-are-different groups. Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston recently told a San Francisco audience that he had on his desk 1,250 cases in which management and labor had agreed to wage contracts which would break the wage formula. The meat-producing industry's protests have been approaching a crescendo—except us and we'll produce enough so controls won't be necessary. (Why not clothing, building, and everything else, too?)

Third is the agitation to remove price and wage controls altogether and take a chance on letting the economy go through the wringer until a new plateau of production is reached. The American Farm Bureau Federation is urging this, and so is the United States Chamber of Commerce.

If the nation would really unite behind the other measures these two organizations, particularly the chamber, also urge—measures to channel off excess buying power, the driving force behind inflation—controls might be dropped without too great risk.

But congress is moving at a snail's pace to tax off this excess and keeps lowering its sights to boot. There is actually an organized move under way to limit federal income taxes to 25 per cent—even of the largest incomes. And there are disturbing signs of a campaign to discourage the deflationary flow of personal savings into reservoirs of government bonds. Neither congress nor the administration has shown adequate determination to cut nondefense spending.

It has been said before, but it cannot be said too often. Americans have two choices before them: the passing inconveniences, irritations and deprivations of controls and high taxes, on the one hand, and the measureless, irredeemable kind of capital levy imposed by runaway inflation.

If they prefer the first choice they had better start shouting and working for it now, before it's too late.—Christian Science Monitor.

Don't Take That Outside Job If Not Necessary

Her husband has made their living unaided ever since they have been married. But now she has a chance for a "pretty good job" and is trying to make up her mind whether or not to take it.

It would mean being away from home five and a half days a week. It would necessitate her hiring someone to care for her five-year-old daughter and eight-year-old son.

She is tempted to take the job because she knows it would be easier than housework and because the family "could use" the extra money. But she would like an outside opinion—since her husband has told her she can do as she likes about it.

Well, here is one outside opinion. Say "No, thank you" to the job offer and stick to your most important job, that of making a good home and looking after your children yourself.

It may be harder work than you would have in an office, but at least you will have the satisfaction of knowing that in looking after your own children you are doing a job no other person

HOLLYWOOD, (NEA)—On the Record: Veteran actor H. B. Warner on Hollywood's current crop of new faces: "Most of them don't know Friday from Philadelphia about acting."

Rita Hayworth's agent, Abe Lastfogel: "Rita has never looked more beautiful. She's learned about the realities and the good things of life worth holding."

Gary Cooper, on autograph collectors: "I like 'em as long as they bring their own pencils and don't push."

Varga, creator of the leggy Varga girl, on how long he's been fascinated by feminine legs:

"When I was eight years old and in school I dropped my pencil all the time so I could get a better look at my teacher's legs."

Sophie Tucker, about TV censorship: "I won't let them blue-pencil me. I've never gotten along in the movies and radio because they won't let me be Sophie Tucker. Listen, I'm not a 16-year old girl. I know what to do and how far to go."

Linda Darnell, about romance: "I've got a year to wait before I can marry again. Once I had three dates in a row with a very nice guy. Everybody said 'Oops,' so we stopped seeing each other."

Scotty Beckett, whose divorce from Beverly Baker is final May 31, has been rejected for military service because of an asthmatic condition. . . . Hollywood's animal cycle is still cycling. Now it's a bull named Saturn due for a glamour buildup in "Ring Around Saturn."

Jazz has replaced Schmalz in Germany for the first time in history, with Louis Armstrong and Duke Ellington leading the record sales there. . . . Paul Henreid's return to the stage, in "The Merry Widow" in San Francisco, has Hollywood buzzing, "Another Pinza?" The Frisco critics are still raving.

WANTS TO BE ALONE

Inside on the rumor that Garbo would make a comeback film at MGM is that Dore Schary outlined a story idea to her and promised to develop it if she seemed enthusiastic. A few days later Garbo cooled on the project and it withered on the vine.

United Artists will release "The River," as a road show special. It was filmed entirely in India. . . . Michele Morgan, whose Hollywood luck never equalled her European success, may light down in plaster city again. Her French movie-profile hubby, Henri Vidal, is being wooed by the studios. . . . Note to wolves: Dorothy Shay is taking judo lessons, training for her movie role in the fall as a lady pirate.

Let other actresses scream about being typed in floozy parts. Not Adele Jergens, who wants it known that "they pay off."

Adele's "witching up" Dinah Shore's life in "Aaron Slick From Funkin' Creek" and she told me just what she thinks about it all: "Listen, these parts give me a lot of work," she shrugs. "There's always a 'witch' in a picture and I'm the champ at playing them."

Eye-opener: Errol Flynn's ex-mother-in-law, Marge Edgington, is writing a book, "My Life With Errol Flynn." She continued to manage his home after his divorce from daughter Nora.

Gloria Swanson has notified Wald-Krasna that she'll do the Paris "buyer" role in "Exclusive Model" if the picture rolls and winds up during the month of July. . . . They've issued the shed-weight order to Mario Lanza at MGM. . . . Nina Foch is denying rumors that she'll be the next Mrs. Artie Shaw or that her heart is even going pit-pat.

"I know Artie," she told me, "but not that well."

RECORD DEAL

There's a deal spinning for Margaret Truman and Vaughn Monroe to team up for an album of semi-classical records.

Irene Ryan's satirical take-off on Gussie Moran is titled, "How Green Was My Volley."

Short Takes. Lois Moran, the one-time star, will teach acting at Stanford University this summer. Robert Ryan is backing Bob Mitchum for top fan mail honors at RKO.

There are nine film titles based on Gen. MacArthur's congressional speech tag line, "Old soldiers never die, they just fade away." A camera hasn't turned on any of them, however. . . . Lloyd Bacon's comment after seeing one of those swashbuckling pictures: "It buckled when it should have swashed."

Inside on MGM's "The Plymouth Adventure": Spencer Tracy as skipper of a Mayflower loaded with stars.

Jacoby on Canasta Guard Against Killer Tactics

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Some expert Canasta players believe in playing every hand, or at least nearly every hand, for a kill. In particular, they have a theory that it is silly to meld from your hand when you need only 50 points.

Furthermore, if they need 50 points and one of the opponents melds from his hand they freeze the pack immediately, regardless of how good or bad their own hands happen to be.

The basis of the theory is that 50 points is an easy count to acquire and that any player is almost certain to have that count by the time he has made a few plays. Then they go one step further and reason that a side with twenty-two cards in the combined hands will have the better chance in a fight for a frozen discard pile than a side with only nineteen cards.

These players also fight for the discard pile from the very start. For instance, if a player of this school starts with three or four of a kind, he may discard those three or four cards right away, or he may vary his game slightly by throwing an odd card at his first play and then follow with his matched set.

Therefore, when all four players belong to this school there is an excellent chance that no one will meld or take the discard pile for several rounds. By then the discard pile will have become so large that both sides will go into an all-out fight for it.

In order to play safe and to retain as many pairs as possible each side will throw wild cards into the pile, one after another. Eventually, the side that is lucky enough to get the pile will have complete control of the game and will score several thousand points, since by that time the opponents will have no play for out left.

Players of the automatic quick melding school will probably lose against players of this school but may not. The point to remember, if you meld from your hand and your opponent then freezes the pack, is that you are competing with nineteen cards against twenty-two, and that there is no point in your going all-out to fight for the pack.

Reconcile yourself to the possibility of taking a loss on the hand and concentrate on playing for out. Of course, even playing this way you may get the discard pile, in which case you will then be able to play for a big hand yourself.

Sharp Canasta strategy is based on rule knowledge. The player who knows the rules is always ahead of the pack. Read up on Jacoby's new 1951 INTERNATIONAL LAWS OF CANASTA. Send 15 cents in coin with your name and address to Oswald Jacoby, Dixon Evening Telegraph, P. O. Box 438, Times Square Station, New York 18, N. Y.

Information and Charm Are Found in a Tract Describing a Nevada Hotel and Gambling Casino.
(Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 16—I find information and charm in a little tract published by the Desert Inn, a luxurious hotel and elite gambling hell, which is run in the name of Wilbur Clark, who was a bellhop a little more than 20 years ago and, in 1929, was turned down for a job at the Adams hotel in Phoenix. Mr. Clark has several partners including Thomas McInty of Cleveland, whom you met in these dispatches a few days ago if you were doing your duty toward your intelligence. Mr. Clark probably will overstretch and go bust because even now he is talking nonsense about an 18-hole golf course stretching away and away in the desert and spotting palatial homes to sell for $25,000 and up. I can see Coral Gables all over again. I can see Davis Island, off Tampa, where in the era of wonderful nonsense I covered the baseball camps from an apartment in a stucco edifice called the Palazzo di Firenze, which was furnished with hand-carved tables and chairs done to order in Florence. I see Boca Raton and other grandiose follies at Sarasota and Pasadena, Fla., and I remember that the darling gentlemen who put them together, sparing no extravagance, were Wilbur Clark's almost to the life.

Today at lunch I saw a reminiscent face across the crowded room and dropped into a spare chair to chat with Joe Smoot, who has been building horse tracks since not long after the grand opening at Saratoga. Mr. Smoot built Hialeah at Miami and, later, Gulfstream, on the beach, and now he is working on a new one in Vegas, which hasn't enough facilities for gambling, what with her casinos as close together as cards in a deck, and so must have a horse-yard. We looked about us at the pleasantly gaudy properties of extravagance and hypertension and Mr. Smoot's eyes, which have seen so much, made a worldly smirk as though to say, "Here we go again!"

The booklet that I mentioned is called "Souvenir Gaming Guide" and begins thus: "You will probably want to try your luck in our new gaming casino so we are explaining the fundamentals of the most popular games in simple, A, B, C language."

There is a photograph showing three pretty young girls and several young men at a crap-table. They all seem moral. There is a row of slot machines behind them. There is a sweetly endearing persuasion about this little book, in that it presents in their truly innocent character a number of games which most of us, through a thoughtless bigotry, have held to be works of the devil.

I found myself wincing as I read the lecture on craps, which is much more the American game than baseball.

But why? Because, I note to myself, this brisk, ingenious sport has often been associated in our press with idle and worthless parties and because the law has taken a priggish attitude toward a diversion inherently no more wicked than the Radcliffe hoop roll, croquet, the sport of Cordell Hull, or bridge.

The lesson on craps is adorned with a drawing of a happy group at a table and a dealer shoving at a young man a stack and a half, about $15. I would guess, assuming that these are 50-cent checks, although, of course, they may represent a nickel or $5 each. The young man is exclaiming, with a fatuous beam, "Baby gets her new pair of shoes!"

If baby needed shoes he should not have been risking his money on craps. I offer this as editorial criticism of the souvenir gaming guide, not as moral criticism of the sport.

"Craps," the lesson says, "is really a lot simpler than it looks if you follow the explanations."

"When you put your money on the pass-line, you win on 7 or 11 and lose on 2, 3 or 12—on the first roll. If any other number comes up, that's your point. You win, unless a 7 is thrown first, in which case you lose."

Surely, you know that, but did you ever read it in a book? As with the facts of life, I learned all this around the water tower where the bums used to hop off and on the freights to and from the wheatfields. I think that is the better way to learn certain things, for it somehow has seemed

The Doctor Says:

Loss of Blood Chief Cause In Developing of Anemia

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Good red blood is something everyone needs for health. The blood nourishes the tissues, carries oxygen from the lungs throughout the body, and performs a multitude of other functions. Without enough red blood cells and hemoglobin (which is the coloring matter of these cells), the body suffers from fatigue, the skin becomes pale and sallow, and many other functions suffer.

Anemia is the general term applied to below normal number of red blood cells or insufficient coloring matter. Needless to say there are several kinds of anemia, many possible causes, and great variation in the degree to which there is a deficiency of red cells or hemoglobin. The most common form, however, is what is known as secondary anemia—that in which blood has been lost from the body and incompletely replaced.

A sudden hemorrhage, even a nosebleed, will bring on anemia. If it is not repeated, however, the blood is usually replaced rapidly. But if attacks of bleeding are repeated at frequent intervals, a severe anemia may result.

The attack on this kind of anemia is not only to give iron preparations which enter into the hemoglobin, but even more important to identify and stop the attacks of hemorrhage. In many cases it turns out to be quite a problem to track down where the loss of blood is coming from because it may be gradual and in small amounts rather than sudden and profuse.

But anemia can come from many things besides loss of blood. Some get anemic just because they do not get enough iron in their food. There is also a form known as primary or pernicious anemia, the cause of which is not known. This used to be a fatal disease, but thanks to Castle's work on dogs and the observations of Minot and Murphy on human beings this is no longer true. Liver has saved many lives of those with pernicious anemia; now crystallized vitamin B-12 appears to be as good or better.

TRACING THE CAUSE

In secondary anemia the problem is to trace the cause and correct it. Often, however, iron pills prove of great help and in severe cases blood transfusions can prove life saving.

With present knowledge of the blood it has become possible to restore many persons to health who might otherwise have become chronic invalids or even have perished from the results of their condition.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

White tapers and white floral arrangements decorated the University Place Christian church chapel. Rev. Truce Lewellyn, pastor of the church officiated. Miss Marian Shulz, organist, played a prelude of music preceding the ceremony and several selections during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, Nancy wore a white French pique street length dress styled with lace insets, squared neckline and a square collar, also inset with lace. Her accessories were white. She carried a colonial bouquet of pale pink sweetheart roses and white gardenias. She also carried a handmade lace handkerchief made by her maternal great grandmother, the late Mrs. James Baird of New York. Her pearl choker was a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Robert Colley, matron of honor, wore a beige linen street length dress with navy and beige accessories and carried poligonium carnations. Vernon Stanley, Norman, Okla., was best man and the ushers were Jack Munday and Robert Colley.

The bride's mother wore pale green bemberg with a small flowered hat for the ceremony and a corsage of deep pink carnations.

Reception at Church

Nancy attended Dixon schools and graduated from high school here, later going to the Academy of Art, Chicago, Bradley university and the University of Oklahoma, where she majored in art.

After Jules graduated from schools in Venezuela, he was in the army service there for two years, later coming to the University of Oklahoma where he is majoring in electrical engineering and where he and Nancy met two years ago.

Following a dinner for the bridal party, Nancy and Jules left for a trip of undisclosed destination. The bride's traveling costume was a white linen suit with black and white accessories and she wore the

Dixon, Illinois

When Miss Shirley Grobe, daughter of the Roy Grobes, Rt. 1, became the bride of Albert Kastner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kastner, Dixon, she was attended by her sister, Miss Elsie Grobe. William Kastner was his brother's best man. The newlyweds with their attendants are pictured above.

Albert Kastners, Newlyweds, To Reside on Peoria Avenue

White nylon net over taffeta fashioned the wedding gown worn by Miss Shirley Grobe when she became the bride of Albert Kastner at the Church of God, West Morgan street. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Grobe, Rt. 1, and the son of the Karl Kastners, 249 Graham street were wed April 22. The Rev. James Watkins officiated at the double ring ceremony. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Robert Burrs, organist, played nuptial music and Mrs. Dudley Lippert sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because".

Vases of flowers and lighted candelabra decorated the church for the entrance of the bride, given in marriage by her father. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a tiara of pearls, and for something old she wore a gold pin of her grandmother's, Mrs. John Sheaffer. She carried a blue handkerchief given by her aunt, Mrs. Merle Drew. Red roses formed the bride's colonial bouquet.

Miss Elsie Grobe, sister of the bride, as maid of honor wore a bouffant-style dress of pink organdy. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

William Kastner, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Glenn Kastner, Ernest Grobe, Ivan Grobe, and Karl Gableman.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Grobe wore a blue and white print dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of navy blue. Her corsage, like Mrs. Grobe's, was of pink carnations.

Reception at Church
Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement. Mrs. Merle Drew cut the four-tiered wedding cake; Miss Lois Grobe, the bride's sister, and Miss Alice Gableman, served; Mrs. Ernest Bohn, aunt of the bride, Miss Helen Zbinden, and Miss Barbara Drew were in charge of the gifts and Miss Linda Kastner, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

When the newlyweds left on a two weeks' wedding trip to Florida, the bride was wearing a navy blue suit with white accessories. She wore a corsage of roses from her bouquet. They are now at home in an apartment at 214½ Peoria avenue.

A graduate of Dixon high school, the bride is employed at the Schildberg Studio. The bridegroom, also a graduate of Dixon high school, is employed by Massey Hardware company.

New Cards to Be Issued at Dixon Library

Monday, May 21, re-registration of all borrowers will begin at Dixon Public Library. The new cards will be a pale green as a contrast to the old buff colored cards. Many borrowers will be sad to lose their old numbers but this can't be helped and each borrower must carry his new card with him when he wishes to borrow a book.

The new system of registration was set up in automatic renewal at the end of a three year period; each card will expire on a date three years from now. There is no hurry about re-registering, it will continue permanently.

All borrowers' records must be cleared, that is there shall be no books out overdue or fines against the borrower already on file, before the new card is issued. This Saturday, Bargain Day, at the library will be an opportunity for the borrower to clear his conscience and library record at 50% off. Borrowers may inquire at the library's loan desk whether or not they now owe a fine. Bargain day is from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

City Sales Tax Bill Stalled In Committee

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—A man backed by Mayor Martin H. Kennelly of Chicago to let cities levy a half cent sales tax without referendum is getting a lukewarm reception in the Illinois legislature.

Kennelly appeared before the senate municipalities committee in support of the bill yesterday. After hearing him and other witnesses, committee members postponed any action until next week.

Senator William Connors of Chicago, Democratic minority leader, said the committee's decision represented a move by opponents to stall the bill.

Would Ease Headache
Some leading advocates of the proposal said privately they do not believe the legislature will approve it.

Kennelly said its enactment would mean $19,000,000 a year in extra revenue that would ease the city's financial headache.

The bill would permit all cities to adopt a half cent sales tax without voters approval, which the existing law enacted in 1947 requires.

Gov. Stevenson later told reporters he is "emphatically in favor" of the city program as presented by Kennelly to the legislature.

League Favors It
A. L. Sargent, executive secretary of the Illinois Municipal League, joined the Democratic mayor in favoring the bill. The Municipal League is the legislative voice of downstate cities.

"Downstate cities are as bad off financially as Chicago," Sargent told the committee.

Steady Now, Judge Says

LAS VEGAS, NEV., (AP) — Actor John Agar, Shirley Temple's ex-husband, had to gulp several cups of black coffee before he could get a license to wed Loretta Barnett Combs, Los Angeles model.

County Clerk Helen Scott at first refused to issue the license yesterday on the ground that Agar was "too unsteady." He retreated across the street, ordered his coffee strong, and when he returned he passed muster. Judge Frank McNamee then married the couple.

Agar, 30, was divorced by Miss Temple Dec. 5, 1949. She complained of his drinking. Miss Combs, 28, and married once before, was with him when he was arrested Jan. 13 on a drunk driving charge in Los Angeles. He faces trial there July 20 on two such charges.

Chief's Duties Start Quickly

PITTSBURGH, (AP) — Pittsburgh's new fire chief won't forget when he was sworn in as chief.

James T. Coelett donned his best uniform not long ago for the ceremony in City Hall. His mother and wife were on hand to watch him take his oath. Just then, an alarm rang in, quickly followed by another. Coelett was the first man out of the room, rushing to direct six companies fight a stubborn blaze.

Coelett, a veteran of 20 years in the fire department, is the son of a fireman killed in the line of duty 24 years ago.

Seek Cause of Poisoning of Ft. Meade GI's

FT. MEADE, Md., (AP)—More than 400 soldiers who got stomach aches here and at Arlington, Va., had the authorities digging for the cause today.

The finger apparently pointed to food poisoning. But so far the army doctors haven't been able to pinpoint the reason.

By actual count, 384 cases of upset stomachs, nausea and vomiting were reported at Ft. Meade, of which 95 were hospitalized. At an air force camp at Arlington, Va., about 60 more cases were reported.

Lord Birdwood, Gallipoli Hero, Succumbs at 85

LONDON, (AP)—Field Marshal Lord Birdwood, 85, who led the Australian and New Zealand army corps against the Turks in the World War I battle of Gallipoli, died today.

During the ill-fated Dardanelles campaign Lord Birdwood organized the evacuation of British troops from the Gallipoli peninsula. He himself was wounded there in May, 1915.

Later he led Australia-New Zealand forces against the Germans on the Somme river.

First commissioned in 1853, Birdwood was a professional soldier all his active life.

In 1925 he was made British army commander in chief in India and appointed field marshal. His baronetcy—and a grant of $50,000—was in recognition of his war service.

Birdwood's wife died in 1947 after they had been married for 53 years. He himself suffered a heart attack last year.

Friend of O'Dwyer Pal Convicted

NEW YORK, (AP)—Numbers racketeer Louis Weber was convicted last night of lying to the U. S. senate crime probe committee about his relations with James J. Moran, pal of former Mayor William O'Dwyer.

Weber, 51-year-old native of Puerto Rico, will be sentenced on the perjury conviction in federal court tomorrow.

He can get up to five years in prison and a $2,000 fine—the maximum imposed on Moran on the same charge.

The two perjury trials were the first prosecutions growing out of the senate committee's sensational televised hearings here.

The cases hinged on the number of times Weber visited Moran at his office when Moran was first deputy fire commissioner from 1946 to 1950.

Moran swore to the committee that there were no more than six

Shoots Wife, Love Rival, Then Suicides

CHICAGO, (AP)—A husband, shot and wounded his estranged wife—a co-ed—and another man and then killed himself on the campus of Wright Junior college last night.

Two blasts fired from a .410 gauge shotgun by Fred Souers, Jr., 29-year-old mechanic disrupted evening classes at the college. Some 200 students left their classes and rushed to the scene.

Not Serious
Parts of one charge from the shotgun blast struck Mrs. Margaret Iden Souers, 25, and her friend, Kenneth Trader, 26, a roofer. Their condition was reported not serious.

Then Souers, after removing his left shoe and sock, placed the muzzle of the shotgun against his abdomen, pressed the trigger with his toe and fired a fatal charge into his body.

Police said Souers had gone to the college in an attempt to effect a reconciliation with his wife who had filed suit for divorce. The couple, parents of a 3-year-old daughter, had separated seven weeks ago.

Fired One Blast
Trader had gone to the college to meet Mrs. Souers and saw her with Souers in her car. As Trader approached, Mrs. Souers stepped out of the car to warn him that Souers had a gun. About that instant Souers fired one blast from the shotgun.

Mrs. Souers told police that as Trader neared the car, her husband said: "Tell that jerk to get out of here or I'll shoot him in the head."

Moran is appealing and free on $25,000 bail. Weber, free on $20,000 bail, also plans to appeal.

Scientist Not Guilty Of Contempt

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Dr. Joseph W. Weinberg, the "Scientist X" who figured in investigations of atomic spying, was freed today of contempt of court charges.

Four contempt charges against the scientist were thrown out by U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff.

The judge ruled that Weinberg had a right to refuse to answer questions put to him by a federal grand jury on the ground that answers might tend to incriminate him.

The contempt charges were lodged against the scientist by Judge Holtzoff last Friday when Weinberg repeated, in open court, his refusal to answer questions before a grand jury.

NEW YORK, (AP)—The American Cancer Society reported last night that 70,000 Americans were saved from cancer last year. Another 210,000 persons died from the disease.

Another 70,000 persons might have been saved, said Mefford R. Runyon, the society's executive vice-president, if their cancers had been detected and treated early.

Dixon Netmen Fall to E. Rockford

But Newcomer, Acker Upset District's Best

Rabs Sweep Last 4 Singles, Last 2 Doubles Matches

Floyd Acker and Al Newcomer showed little respect Wednesday for the two tennis players who will represent northwestern Illinois in the state singles finals at Champaign this weekend.

Acker defeated East Rockford's Jack Lofgren, winner of the district meet, 6-6, 6-2, and Newcomer disposed of Dale Bjurstrom, district runner-up, in a quicker fashion, 6-1, 6-1.

Then the two Dixon boys got together and defeated Lofgren and Bjurstrom in the doubles, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2, perhaps just to show that the singles victories were no flukes. Unfortunately, however, Acker and Newcomer got no winning support from their other Dixon mates, and East Rockford ran off with the match, 6 to 3.

The East Rabs swept the last four singles and the last two doubles matches to gain their margin.

The summaries:
SINGLES
Acker (D) defeated Lofgren (R), 6-6, 6-2.
Newcomer (D) defeated Bjurstrom (R), 6-1, 6-1.
DOUBLES
Acker-Newcomer (D) defeated Lofgren-Bjurstrom (R), 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.
Cheney-Richardson (D) defeated Kurczok (D), 6-3, 6-2.
Richardson-Nelson (D) defeated Kurczok-Crawford (D), 6-3, 6-2.

Yanks Send Page Back to Minors

NEW YORK, (AP)—Joe Page's return to the minors was the most dramatic move in the last day scramble by major league ball clubs to cut down to the 25-man limit.

Page, the fabulous "Fireman Joe" of the 1947 and 1949 New York Yankee champions, at least has a job and a salary in the $25,000 bracket. He goes to Kansas City to work out the kinks in his arm.

Jack Kramer, another big name of the past in the American league, was given his unconditional release by the New York Giants. The 35-year-old righthander is free to make his own connection.

Oregon Trackmen, Coach Ready for State Finals

Chicago Area Track Teams Favored Again

CHAMPAIGN, (AP)—Defending champion Wendell Phillips of Chicago and Lyons Township of LaGrange, the 1948 and 1949 winner, are expected to battle it out for the state high school track championship tomorrow and Saturday.

Oak Park, which has won 16 state crowns, York of Elmhurst and possibly Springfield, the downstate hope, may also figure in the team title struggle. There is little chance that the title will move downstate, however, and the Chicago area should continue its monopoly.

Not since 1925 when Eldorado and Danville tied with 17 points each has the crown been taken from the north where Chicago area teams have won 24 times and Rockford twice in that span.

LaGrange Favored
Based on district performances last week end, LaGrange can shoot for five firsts which would bring enough points to win. Ben Johnson ran a 50.8 in the 440; George Drake turned in 2:02 for the 880; the 880 relay team was clocked in 1:32.0; Joe Remelsberger high jumped 6 feet 4 1/4 inch and has done 6-3 this spring; and Don Webber pole vaulted 11-10 1/4, and is credited with an earlier leap of 13-1.

All these marks are the best reported in the state and if the LaGrange lads can duplicate them, the team title appears secure.

LaGrange won in 1948 with a mere 15 points and in 1949 with 26 7/10. Wendell Phillips took the hunting last year with 19.

Phillips can counter with a pair of potential double winners—Willie Stevens in both hurdles and Ira Murchison in both dashes.

Stevens Steps
Stevens last week stepped the hurdles in 1:47 and 2:00 while Murchison turned the 100 in :09.7 (he has matched the state record of :09.6 in previous meets) and the 220 in :21.9.

Stevens, Murchison, Willie Burks and Dillard Harris have a 1:32.3 in the relay. With LaGrange's relay team turning in 1:32.0, that event—the last on the program—probably again will be the key to determining the team championship.

Oak Park Figures
Oak Park, although not presenting as many standout performers, has displayed balance that may in the long run, count up for victory.

In all, more than 600 athletes will converge on the University of Illinois for track, golf and tennis championship quests. The 57th annual track meet opens tomorrow with the preliminaries at 1 p. m. (CDT), and at the same time for the finals Saturday.

Race Horses Die In Canadian Fire

MONTREAL—(AP)—Hundreds of race horses stampeded about a flame-lit enclosure last night and several broke loose into a crowded street as a fire gutted a $50,000 barn at 15 valuable horses died. From 12 to 15 valuable horses died.

However, most of the 700 U. S. and Canadian horses here for the track opening Friday escaped injury. Only minor burns were suffered by persons on the scene.

Gymnast With Broken Back Wins Point

ANN ARBOR, Mich., (AP)—Injured gymnast Danile Rene had hopes that his plight might protect other athletes as he headed for his eastern home today.

Rene, 26-year-old student from Springfield college in Massachusetts, suffered a broken back March 30 in a fall at the NCAA gymnastics meet at the University of Michigan.

The injury was sufficiently healed so he could leave University hospital and start for Bristol, R. I., yesterday.

Wilson Writes
Before leaving, the young army veteran, father of two children, got a letter from K. L. (Tug) Wilson, secretary-treasurer of the NCAA.

"It is very probable that as a result of this injury the matter will be taken up at the next executive meeting," Wilson wrote.

That is exactly what Rene was after. His hospital bill amounted to more than $3,000, and his father, F. O. Rene, a tradesman, said he would have to pay it after Springfield college, Michigan and the NCAA declined responsibility. Springfield, however, offered to pay up to $500 of the bill.

When an Atlantic City textile manufacturer offered to foot the bill, the father and son declined with thanks.

Principle the Thing
"We felt if we accepted that wonderful offer," they said, "the principle might be forgotten and we would be letting down a lot of athletes who should be protected in the future."

The father also said: "I don't have much money, but I can pay for this and, believe me, it will be worth it if it brings on some form of protection for thousands of boys who make sports the big time business it is."

WEDNESDAY'S STARS

Girls' Baseball Set for 8 p. m. At Reynolds

Exhibition Game Pairs Members of Top Pro League

Baseball—female variety—comes to Dixon Friday night when the Rockford Peaches and the Peoria Red Wings meet in an exhibition game under the Reynolds field lights at 8 p. m.

Both teams are members of the All-American Girls' baseball league which opens its regular season's competition on Sunday.

After scoring a hit with Dixon fans in their first appearance here two years ago, the Peaches return with their strongest lineup yet assembled. It is largely the same group of girls who won the pennant in the eight-team league last season and then went on to win the playoff championship.

How It Differs
Girl's baseball differs from the male variety in only a few details. Base lines are slightly shorter, a 10-inch horseshoe baseball is employed and the pitching distance also is a bit shorter.

But there is one detail of this comparatively new game that its fans insist on making clear: The game is NOT softball, but actual baseball, played under baseball rules.

Members of the various teams in the league play baseball exclusively as a full-time occupation during the 112-game league season. In the early spring, the girls train in such glamorous spots as Cuba and Florida before moving north for a short exhibition schedule.

Committee Sponsors
The Peaches-Red Wings game Friday night is being sponsored by the Reynolds field activities committee, supervisors of the summer sports schedule at that park.

According to committee members this game is the first in a planned summer series of top sports entertainment for Dixon fans.

Poore Pitches, Bats Lindquist Team to Win

With the score tied 6-6 after the regulation seven innings, Poore hit a home run with two mates on base in the eighth to give himself a safe working margin. He then proceeded to get himself out of a bases-loaded jam in the last of the eighth.

HUGH'S VIEWS OF SPORTS

Along with many other Dixon sports fans, we are looking forward to the invasion of Reynolds field by the female baseball players Friday night.

IT WILL BE OUR first glimpse at the major-league style of girls' baseball. Heretofore we have been prone to dismiss these fugitives from the powder room as just another promoter's scheme to relieve sports fans of their dollars.

We have clung to the old-fashioned notion that the ideal place for women is the home, or in some cases, the office or other places of gainful employment.

OBVIOUSLY, OUR thinking in this matter is patterned more after the Model-T era than the present jet-powered days, but at least we are willing to be convinced.

One thing about this All-American style of girls' baseball is certain, though. And that is the number of frantic fans they have following them. We have been unable to determine whether it is the pulchritude or the skill of the players that draws the fans. All we know is the fact that they get an immense kick out of watching the girls in action.

IF GALS' BASEBALL is as fascinating as these addicts say it is, the Peaches may have several hundred more fans after their appearance in Reynolds field Friday night.

We shall withhold our judgment until after we have seen them, however. Somehow, we're still a bit partial toward the tobacco-chewing type of ball player.

AREA JOINTINGS:
As if the Mt. Morris track team hadn't had its share of injuries already this season, Roy Canterbury, Coach J. R. Worley's ace distance man, received a bad spiking in the district meet in Rockford last Saturday.

FREEPORT'S GOLF AND baseball teams had a bad day Tuesday, each losing a match to outside opponents. But both squads were short-handed. It seems players from both teams were participating in a music festival in Clinton, Iowa.

Extension of Rent Controls Meets Congress Opposition

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods carried to the house banking committee today the administration case for extension of federal rent controls. He got a mixed reception in the senate.

Banking committees of both branches are holding hearings on President Truman's request for extension of the basic economic controls law beyond June 30. Mr. Truman also asked for a wide range of new powers.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the senate banking committee said yesterday the administration should start thinking about a temporary extension while congress considers whether to broaden the act.

Expires June 30
He told Woods any such stop-gap extension ought to include some provisions for continuing rent controls beyond June 30. The present separate rent control act expires June 30.

Woods told reporters he would work to draft such legislation. But he left it open as to whether they might include the local option provision of the present act. This provision allows any community or state to vote out federal controls.

Dirksen Doubts Need
Senator Dirksen (R-Ill.) expressed doubt on hearing Woods that federal controls are needed. He said states and communities ought to be free to decide for themselves on retaining rent curbs.

The administration is asking for authority to continue controls on all the 6,700,000 dwellings now under rent ceilings. It wants, too, the power to extend controls wherever it is determined they are needed, and to control commercial rents and hotel rates. Maybank expressed opposition to controlling hotel rates. Congress has been cool, also, to commercial rent curbs.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) said any rent control extension should carry some automatic increase for any landlord whose rent ceilings have gone unchanged since 1942.

As Inevitable as Taxes—More Taxes

The Newscharts above compare selected individual income taxes paid now with those that would be paid under a new tax increase approved by the house ways and means committee. The tax law is still subject to plenty of working over in both houses of congress, but the consensus is that, regardless of the outcome, you'll have to dig deeper to help Uncle Sam pay for the vast new defense program.

Coopers Part

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—The Gary Coopers have separated and negotiations for a property settlement are in progress. Mrs. Cooper's lawyer says.

The Coopers were married in 1933 in New York. She was 20, Cooper 32. She was a New York debutante who, as Veronica Balfe, daughter of Harry Balfe, Jr., had come to Hollywood in search of a movie career.

They have a daughter, Maria.

'The Man With the Cigar Between His Teeth'

Uncle Sam Gets Told Off in French Book, But It's Really Satire That Sells Job We've Done

By NEA Foreign Service
PARIS. (NEA)—Evil, brutish Uncle Sam gets told off in a neat little red, white and blue propaganda booklet circulating here. But it's a satirical propaganda, and even Communists can understand that it does a pretty good job of selling America and the Marshall Plan.

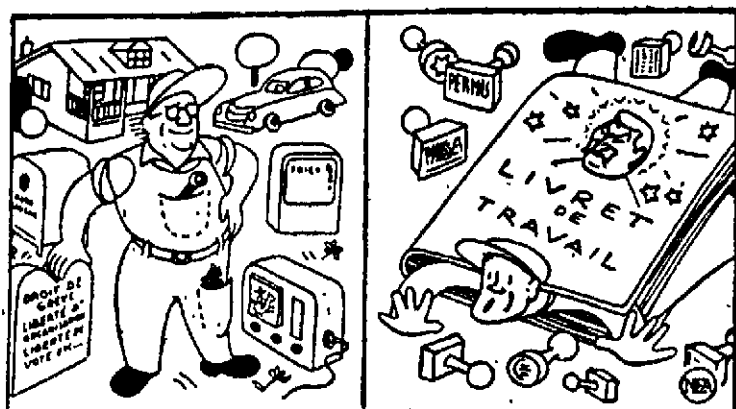

On the surface, it seems to be telling a story of how cruel America (pictured as "The Man With the Cigar Between His Teeth") is to France. But the cruelty takes very pleasant forms. To wit:

"His misdeeds can't be counted . . . For example, he furnishes us, under the name of the Marshall Plan, carburetors which we lack, thus multiplying our traffic difficulties."

And it singles out Monsieur Mettalo, one of America's victims. Uncle Sam was horribly vicious to poor Mettalo. As the booklet tells it, this is what happened:

"This brave young man was living in sweet idleness, leading, thanks to his unemployment, a princely existence. But The Man With the Cigar Between His Teeth saw all this.

"He brought machinery, raw materials. The factories reopened.

COMPARISON between "wretched existence" of U. S. worker (left) with his home, car, household appliances and freedoms, and the "little paradise" of Uncle Samovar's (Stalin) workers (right), smothered by "Handbook of Work," is depicted in this cartoon from French leaflet. Booklet was published by "Rapports France-Unis," a society for promotion of friendly U. S.-French relations.

Everywhere the big chimneys began to smoke again, the motors started to turn.

"Now this poor Monsieur Mettalo works every day. No more unemployment compensation; he has to be content with pay hardly four times higher. And water on his dinner table has been replaced by wine.

"And this is not an isolated case! No! The same bad luck has we had left have been supplanted by steamboats, cargo boats, oil tankers and fruit boats.

"And our dear old oil lamps, relics of the Occupation! By putting our dams back in working order, he has made them useless. As for the wheat in our fields, it is harvested to the very last blade by his murderous engines."

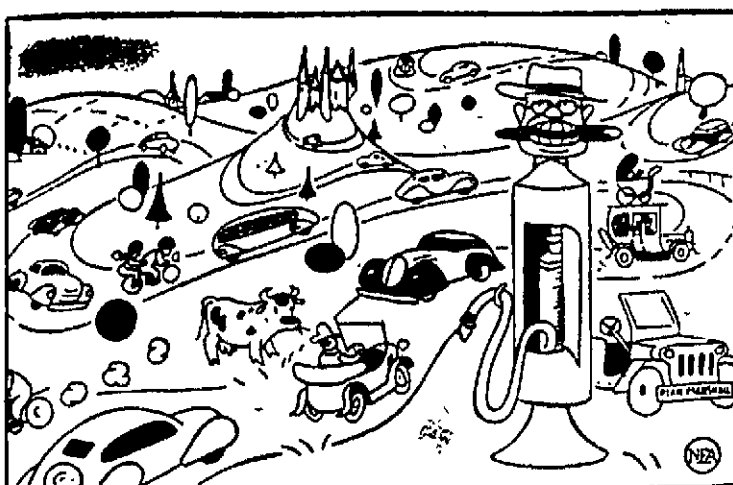

The booklet, illustrated with drawings that bite as much as the sarcastic text, next draws a comparison between diabolical Uncle Sam and benevolent Uncle Samovar, "the founder of the celebrated Marshall Plan (Marshall Stalin, of course)."

This latter is truly France's friend (sarcasm drips heavily here). Listen to what the booklet has to say about Uncle Samovar's plan:

"Everyone knows this wonderful work, of immeasurable social importance, destined to come to the aid of Europe's oppressed peoples. The system is simple: countries that accept this plan (and even if they don't accept it) send Uncle Samovar all their agricultural, mineral and industrial products—including their men in time of war.

"And in return they receive tons of propaganda and a variety of pamphlets."

Why is Uncle Samovar so generous? The booklet has the answer to that one, too. His country is the land of the great artists, inventors and discoverers. Among them, in case you've forgotten, were "Leonardo Vichynski," who painted the Mona Lisa; "Cristo Colomboff," discoverer of America; "Edison-ski," father of the phonograph; and "Pascalov," immortal inventor of the wheelbarrow.

MAN WITH CIGAR is depicted as a gasoline pump in this cartoon from French leaflet that uses satire to sell America in France. "His misdeeds can't be counted," says caption. "For instance, he furnishes us, under the name of the Marshall Plan, carburetors which we lack, thus multiplying our traffic difficulties."

Finally, the booklet draws a comparison between the "wretched existence" of the workman "who groans in the chains" of Uncle Sam with the "little paradise" of Uncle Samovar's worker-citizens.

The pictures show the "wretched existence" worker has a home, car, washing machine, refrigerator, radio and a few assorted freedoms. The worker-citizen in the "little paradise" is pictured smothered by

New Beef Ceilings Result in Wide Range of Meat Prices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The new retail ceilings on beef imposed this week resulted in an astonishing variety of price changes in stores across the country.

Mark-ups and rollbacks on beef were far too irregular to set any pattern. About the only general conclusion to be drawn on the basis of surveys so far is that the ceilings allowed advances of as much as 23 cents on some items in some places, but slashed prices as much as 19 cents on others—and left some unchanged.

Pork and lamb prices, still governed by the general price freeze but expected to come under specific ceilings later, held mostly unchanged from last weekend.

Chickens Lower
Frying and broiling chickens, however, dropped as much as six cents a pound in a few markets. And eggs which had been climbing slowly for weeks tipped downward about two cents a dozen in many places. Retailers attributed these scattered declines to the new ceilings, saying some lower prices for beef cuts apparently eased the buying pressure on other protein foods.

As for fresh produce, price changes were about a stand-off. Asparagus, broccoli, carrots, celery, cucumbers, onions and peppers were generally a little higher. Lettuce dropped moderately, reflecting increased supply competition from less-distant growing areas. Also lower in most places were snap beans, cabbage, green corn and strawberries.

Predict Black Markets
Many in the meat industry contend that the new ceilings and others to come will lead to disruption of normal meat distribution and then black markets. Retailers across the nation reported the new beef ceilings permitted higher prices on the more expensive cuts but trimmed prices on most of the budget items. But even this trend was reversed in some areas.

Other dealers said the ceilings worked to the disadvantage of consumers in many cases because they require a standard system of meat-cutting.

But if the confused housewife noted little reduction in overall beef prices this week, she at least had prospective rollbacks to look forward to. The retail ceilings will be trimmed four to five cents a pound on Aug. 1 and again on Oct. 1.

Rockpile Marks Iron Plant Site

ZELIENOPLE, Pa., (AP) — Almost hidden by spring foliage in a wooded section near this western Pennsylvania town is a pile of rocks which marks the site of one of the nation's first iron-making furnaces.

The rockpile is all that's left of the once famous Bassenheim furnace. It was built in 1813 by Baron Frederick William Dittmar Basse in an effort to recoup a fortune he lost in the Napoleonic Wars.

The baron failed to regain his fortune and the furnace was abandoned in 1827. The baron returned to Europe and died there in 1836. Now the remains are almost rubble.

Boyhood Stage Fright Grips Boyle in Front of TV Cameras

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK. (AP)—So you want to be a television performer? Okay, be one. Not me. I'd rather earn a living flagpole sitting or sticking my head in a lion's mouth. Things like that don't require so much courage.

But I've learned my lesson. I've learned you don't outgrow stage fright.

Some 30 years or more ago I was given a star role in a program put on for a Parent-Teachers Association program at one of the more prominent Kansas City public grammar schools.

Recited Poem

My job was to recite an eight line poem. After four lines stage fright hit me and the rest of the poem forsook me utterly. I stood there in utter quaking misery a moment, and then walked off the stage glassy-eyed—like a sleep walker.

All my life since then I have detested any occasion I had to get up in public. Well, last week I was ambushed into giving an introduction to an hour-long television drama on the Korean war presented by the Pulitzer Prize Playhouse over the ABC network.

For days I went around the house trying to memorize my 150 words.

The day of the program came, house trying to memorize my 150 simple words.

"That's all right," said the director, "just read them."

The program started. I was seated at a desk waiting, looking into a camera about four feet away. Two little red lights suddenly gleamed. I was on.

And the camera eye immediately seemed to open to the size of the Grand Canyon. Sweat popped out on my forehead. My hands shook. I tried to read as fast as I could, but the 150 words seemed to be as long as "Gone With The Wind." Finally I finished, the red lights winked out, and I was off. I was too weak to get up from the desk.

The Reaction

The next day I came into the office and a fellow worker said: "My wife saw you on television last night."

"What did she say?" I asked, shrinking inwardly.

"She said you sure are losing a lot of hair," he answered.

Later several other people made the same remark. And I guess that summed up the general critical reaction—except for one letter that observed:

"Lord, but you're gonna be an ugly old man."

The United States census of 1790 is credited with being the first on a major scale where a population count was made by government employees.

Physics Prof Suspended by University

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — Dr. Joseph H. Weinberg, identified as the mysterious "Scientist X" by house un-American activities investigators into atomic espionage, today was under suspension from the University of Minnesota faculty.

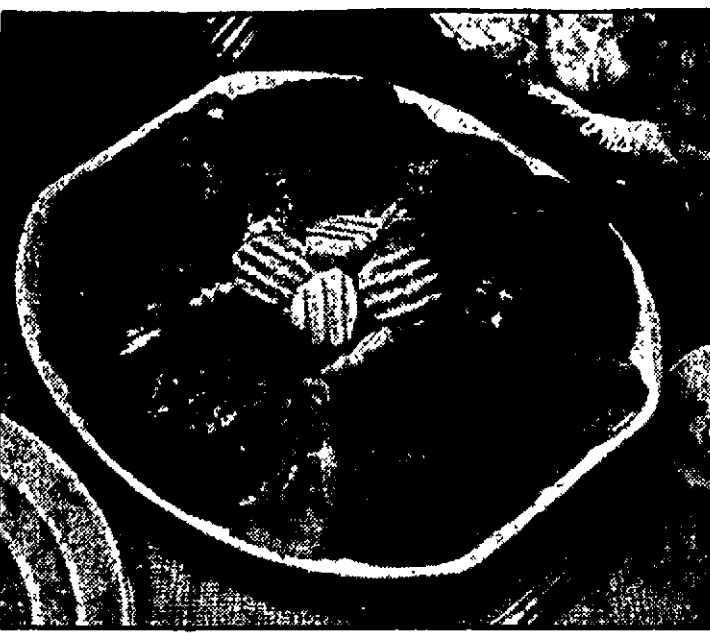

Dr. J. L. Morrill, president of the university, suspended the physics professor last night. Weinberg was cited for contempt last week in federal court in Washington, after refusing to answer grand jury questions on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

Morrill said he would recommend to the board of regents next month that the suspension be continued or that Weinberg be dismissed permanently, depending on developments in the case.

"Whatever his legal rights or the outcome of the pending litigation," Dr. Morrill said, "it is my belief that his judgment in this refusal to cooperate with federal authorities is incompatible with common sense and with a proper appreciation of his duty and obligation as a member of the university staff."

Serve Swiss Steak to Guests

Individual Swiss steaks are fine company meat, cut into serving pieces before cooking for easy and attractive service.

To prepare, purchase quality meat cut from the round, chuck or shoulder beef at least two inches in thickness. Season and pound flour into both sides of the meat and cut into uniform-size small steaks. Pounding makes the meat more tender while the flour coating forms a rich brown gravy.

Brown the meat slowly in some hot fat in a heavy skillet and add

Chief Keeps Gamblers on the Run In City They Said They'd Control

By GEORGE SMEDAL
NEA Special Correspondent
MILWAUKEE, (NEA) — Five years ago, when big, jovial John Walter Polcyn, settled himself in the upholstered police chief's chair in Milwaukee, the word went around that the gamblers were going to take over.

"Over my dead body," said Polcyn, snorting cigar smoke.

At 59, six-foot Polcyn is still very much alive. When he says "there is no police graft and very little gambling in Milwaukee," he means it and can prove it. J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, sized him up the other day as "one of the best police chiefs in the country."

It was Polcyn, commanding 1,350 police in a city of 632,000, who put the finger on Milwaukee's million-dollar-a-year gambler, Sidney A. Brodson. When Brodson testified before the Kefauver Committee, the investigators had before them Polcyn's files laboriously compiled over a period of years with the help of police in 30 other cities.

Being No. 1 is no new story for Milwaukee's 202-pound, gray-haired chief.

Seven years after Polcyn became a patrolman, back in 1916, he took the examination for sergeant. He came up No. 1 in a class of 78. Five years later he took the examination for lieutenant. Again he was No. 1—among 60. His rise to the captaincy in 1934 was automatic.

"We have harassed other gamblers by smashing down their steel reinforced doors," Polcyn recalls. "We have caught boys the gamblers sent out for sandwiches and had a detective deliver the food to them to get the evidence. We have nabbed gamblers on minor charges other than gambling so we could get an excuse to search them for evidence. We've sent men up on fire ladders to look into the gambler's windows."

"We have chased the few policy racketeers all over the county. When we can't arrest them, we run them around and make their lives miserable. But we have had to make our record without the help of strong laws which some other states have. We could crack down much harder on gamblers if we were permitted by law to tap wires, as police in New York can do."

Polcyn, who parts his gray hair precisely, has been called the nation's best dressed police chief, but he is not wealthy. He earns $9,800 a year. He lives with his wife in the same five-room frame house he bought in a South Side workingman's district when he earned $2,610 a year as a lieutenant.

Polcyn feels that Hoover's praise for him belongs to his entire police department.

"Any police officer can do a good job in Milwaukee where the police department is completely separated from politics," Polcyn insists.

Airmen Not Convinced Bombing Of Manchuria Good Strategy

OKINAWA, (AP)—Should the United Nations strike at Communist bases in Manchuria?

Many air force men at the big bomber base here—the men who would do the job—are not convinced it's a good idea.

They are not sure the benefits of any such move would outweigh the drawbacks.

Here is the way many said they see the problem:

If U. S. bombers were assigned to hit Red targets north of the Yalu river border of Korea, they could do serious damage to the Communists' war effort.

List Benefits

Many enemy air bases could be put out of operation. Much of the Communist supply network feeding Red field armies could be disrupted. Communist supply points and production centers in Manchuria could be destroyed. Troop movements far behind the front could be harassed and slowed.

Air force men agree such attacks would be of tremendous help to the U. N. armies fighting on the ground in Korea. It would certainly make the Eighth army's job of killing Communist soldiers a good deal easier.

If that were the whole story, air force men say, there would be no doubt about the military advantages of bombing Manchurian bases.

But there is another side to the purely military problem of any venture north of the Yalu by Allied air power.

Point at Losses

The air experts say that if B-29s flew to Red target areas very much north of Antung, Manchuria, at the mouth of the Yalu, they would have to travel without fighter escort. Without jets flying cover, the air force would expect heavy losses of Superforts. Communist pilots have shown conclusively that Russian-type MIG-15 jets can knock down the big bombers even with friendly air cover in the sky.

Such losses of big bombers could not quickly nor easily be replaced, they say. The result would be a sharp drop in Allied air power.

In their initial strikes, U. S. planes could do serious damage to the enemy's war effort. It is at least doubtful whether the air force could long maintain that level of effectiveness—not if they suffered the losses they say could be expected.

Starfish and their cousins, brittle stars, have been dredged from two-mile ocean bottoms.

When Milwaukee needed a new police chief in 1945, it wasn't a long hunt. Polcyn became Milwaukee's No. 1 cop — the city's fourth in 66 years.

Polcyn proves that if a city wants a crime-free town and an honest police force, it is there for the asking.

"My police force and I are completely free from political control," he explains. "We're honest and we persistently harass gamblers until they give up or crawl into their holes. There hasn't been an open gambling house in Milwaukee for 20 years, and we keep the few thorn gamblers on the run."

How does Polcyn do it? Let him explain:

"First, we're free from politics. We're secure in our job unless we don't enforce the law. We don't wink at the law for any ward boss or anyone else."

"My men and I work under a five-member, non-partisan police and fire commission set up by state law. The mayor, chosen in a non-partisan election, names the commissioners, but on a staggered basis for five-year terms. The Common Council approves the appointments."

Unlike most large cities, Milwaukee police chiefs do not come and go with mayors or parties. They are chosen by the commission for life terms.

"We crack down on violators without worrying about anyone sending us to the sticks for it."

It took Polcyn two years to crack wide open the gambling of Brodson, college graduate and lawyer, who told the Kefauver Committee that he had piled up a fortune of $250,000 by betting on college basketball and other sports.

It was Polcyn who traced out-of state long distance calls to and from Brodson's "food broker" office. With the cooperation of phone companies and police in 30 cities, Polcyn tracked down the gamblers and exposed their racket to Kefauver. Two days after Brodson testified, the Wisconsin Telephone Co. ripped out 'all Brodson's business phones—at Polcyn's request.

Gamblers trying to get a foothold in Milwaukee soon raise their blood pressure.

Danish Cold Table Regal Feast

DANISH COLD PLATE features even slices of mild-cure imported Hafnia ham, smoky salami and wedges of pork liver paste served with dark bread and butter.

COPENHAGEN, (NEA)—Espergerde is a little fishing town about 20 miles from Copenhagen on the sound between Denmark and Sweden. We paused there on a chilly morning for hot coffee and amazing pastries—chocolate suspended in buttery tenderness stuffed to exploding with whipped cream. Then we drove further along the sound across rich farm country. As the sky began to fade we reached Fredenborg (Palace of Peace), the summer residence of the Danish royal family.

But you can't eat castles! A stone's throw from the summer palace lies a handsome inn called Store Kro, with open fireplaces and tables covered with cloths of Copenhagen blue. There, A. Hogsbro Holm, secretary-general of the Danish Agricultural Council, gave us a regal party—a Danish cold table.

The doors of the great dining hall were flung open and two stalwart Danes led the way, in, blowing long curving lurs—ancient horns dating back to the bronze age. They are used now only on exclusive occasions and as a symbol of quality. A lur brand is by law placed on all cheese, butter and bacon exported.

Down the center of the hall stretched a wide table brilliant with fresh flowers and weighted with Danish hams, tongues, roasts of beef and lamb, veal loaves, ducks and chickens, great trays of Danish salami, smoky and smooth, mounds of their pork liver paste served in wedges and eaten on bread. I counted 20 different kinds of meat and fowl and meat and vegetable salads set before us. They served hot dishes also.

Along one wall extended the cheese table with about 15 different kinds of Denmark's fine cheeses, such as blue, Ementaler, camembert, Samsøe. Two girls in peasant dress helped the guests serve themselves.

That was a royal feast. When we got home to the United States again, we'll have a Danish cold table but on a less staggering scale. We'll use our Danish platter with its blue and white pattern and on it place even slices of imported Hafnia ham (it comes to the United States in cans weighing from 2 lbs.), and slices of Danish salami and then mounds of pork liver paste (it comes in 4-oz. cans) cut in wedges. There will be dark bread and butter and watercress and radishes, and for those who want it, Danish beer.

drove to Gibson City Sunday to see their daughter, Phyllis, who teaches music there. Their daughter, Shirley, who teaches in Maroa, also spent the day with them. On the way home, they called at the Bert Henning home, Yorkville.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardne Cook of Hinckley, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Heckman and daughter, Dawn, Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Richardson, Lee, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wicks and son, Barry, Rockford, called Sunday afternoon on Mr. and Mrs. Amos Richardson and Ms. Laura Thorpe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson, Shirley and Bobbie and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kehm, Rochelle, spent Mother's Day in Arlington, Wis., with relatives.

Justice of Peace Seized in Raid On Silvis Club

SILVIS, (AP)—A justice of the peace was arrested on gambling charges yesterday in a raid led by the man who defeated him in an election for police magistrate of Silvis.

Eight other Silvis residents were arrested on the gambling and possessing of gambling devices charges in raids made on the Eagles clubrooms and the Karoules Steak Shop.

The justice was Frank Shannon, defeated independent candidate for police magistrate in the April election. The raiding party was led by Police Chief Leo Linabary and Police Magistrate Lawrence Bobb, who defeated Shannon for the office.

Get 4 Slots

The raiders confiscated four slot machines at the Eagles club and arrested the manager on a charge of possessing gambling devices.

Seven participants in a poker game were booked, and Linabary and Bobb said one of these was Shannon.

The raid followed a regular meeting of the city council, in which two aldermen, Ed Freebern and Wilbur Jacobsen, had urged removal of Linabary. The aldermen also had led action which resulted in the ousting of Bobb from his offices in the council chambers.

Bobb, who is in the insurance and real estate business, was ordered to discontinue conducting personal business from his new office in a second floor ante-room of the city hall.

Vote Down Chief

Last week the council by a 4 to 2 vote refused to approve the mayor's re-appointment of Linabary, but he is continuing in office until a successor is named.

All arrested in the raids either posted cash bonds or were released on recognizance. The hearings will be set later by Bobb.

Army Promises VIP Treatment For War Heroes

TOKYO, (AP)—The army said today it is going to give the VIP (Very Important Person) treatment to any soldier who wins the Medal of Honor.

Any soldier awarded the highest honor the United States can give one of its fighting men was promised:

He will be flown here from Korea and housed in special quarters. He will receive a new uniform and meet Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the supreme commander.

He will get a special pass to all clubs in the Tokyo area, plus the use of an army sedan.

Within 48 hours he—and his family if they are in Japan—will be ready to fly to the United States.

Only one living soldier has received the medal for bravery in Korea. He is M/Sgt. Ernest R. Kouma of Dwight, Neb., who returned to the states last week.

Video Reduces Clothing Sales

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Television may have brought families closer together, but it has also reduced the family income spent on clothing, according to Norma N. Shenk, home economist at the University of California.

Miss Shenk claims that payments on TV sets, together with increased food and housing costs, reduce savings of middle income groups for clothing.

"The silver lining to the problem," she says, "is that people don't need as many new clothes when they stay at home watching video."

Miss Shenk explains that small boys from six to 12 years of age, usually need a pair of new shoes about every two months, but with TV keeping the youngsters indoors, shoe requirements have dropped.

Red 'Air' Levy

RANGOON, (AP)—The Burma Communist Party has ordered hinterland farmers to "donate" five per cent of their earnings towards an "aircraft fund" the party is raising, according to a report from Menywa, Chindwin river town 80 miles west of Mandalay. The report said the Communists have also threatened villagers with "severe reprisals" if they aid loyalist troops.

Stuff Tomatoes With Cheese

THOUSANDS of rounds of blue cheese, being slowly ripened, impress the visitor to the Flora Danica factory at Marslev, Denmark

COPENHAGEN, (NEA) — On the swift ferry that took us from Zealand, site of Copenhagen, to the island of Funen where Hans Christian Andersen was born in Odense, we had a second breakfast in one of the boat's three spacious restaurants. Danish pastry? Of course! Cheese? Of course! And coffee.

On our way to Odense through dairy country we stopped at Marslev to inspect one of the four Flora Danica blue cheese factories. Esper and Jeppe Boel, skillful sons of Marius, founder of the world-famous business, gave us a quickie course in blue cheese knowhow.

It is made of whole cow's milk that tests 50 per cent fat on a dry basis. We followed its rich career from arrival from nearby farms to round forms weighing 6½ lbs., wrapped in foil ready for export.

The choicest are sent to the United States. Last year, according to the Danish Cheese Association, Americans ate 3,000,000 pounds of Danish blue.

The young Boels, alert and enthusiastic, took us through the "make" room where their own strain of blue penicillium culture is introduced into gleaming metal troughs of milk, then to see the curd shaped in round forms, and from there to the drying and salting rooms and finally to the humidity-controlled cellars. In these cellars thousands of blue-veined cheeses at a time are cured in an unhurried, natural way. The curing time runs from eight to 12 weeks.

'There Wuth a Fight' Says a Lone Witness

NORTH HOLLYWOOD — (AP) —An anxious mother telephoned police yesterday that "a major riot" was in progress near the Monlux school.

The police responded accordingly, with sirens screaming. But the "riot" was short lived. A newspaper reporter and cameraman, arriving a few minutes later, found only a small boy, one tooth missing, surveying the scene.

Said the boy: "They wuth a fight between a 10-year-old boy and a 12-year-old kid. The whole school wuth here. They wuth 40 kids on each side. Thirteen cops came. Now they ith all gone."

The boy said he was a non-combatant. His tooth had been out for several weeks but he's expecting a new one soon.

The record possession of a London woman is a name for every letter of the alphabet, from Ann to Zenus.

Tricycle Jam Injures Girl

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP) —Two young drivers here learned about traffic congestion the hard way.

One, Deborah Hissong, 6, went to the hospital yesterday for treatment of two skinned knees. The other departed, apparently unhurt.

Investigating officer Ed Sanford filed no charges, but reported: "Victim said she was pedaling tri-cycle to school when she was in collision with second tri-cycle, girl driver unknown."

City Cops Fail To Abolish Job

MATTOON, Ill. (AP) — When the dog catching contract of Clarence J. Fryman, Jr., expired, the local police temporarily took over his job.

The cops had to kill two stray animals. The dogs had been injured by cars or fighting other dogs. One police officer tore his trousers chasing a dog. He said his pants cost $18.50.

Mayor G. W. Smith quickly requested the City Commission to renew Fryman's contract.

John Wilkes Booth was shot to death by Sgt. Boston Corbett near Fredricksburg, Va., in 1865.

The ancients believed cabbage had medicinal properties.

Public Allowed View of Insane

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—Woodsville State hospital near here has stripped away the veil of secrecy that usually surrounds treatment of the insane.

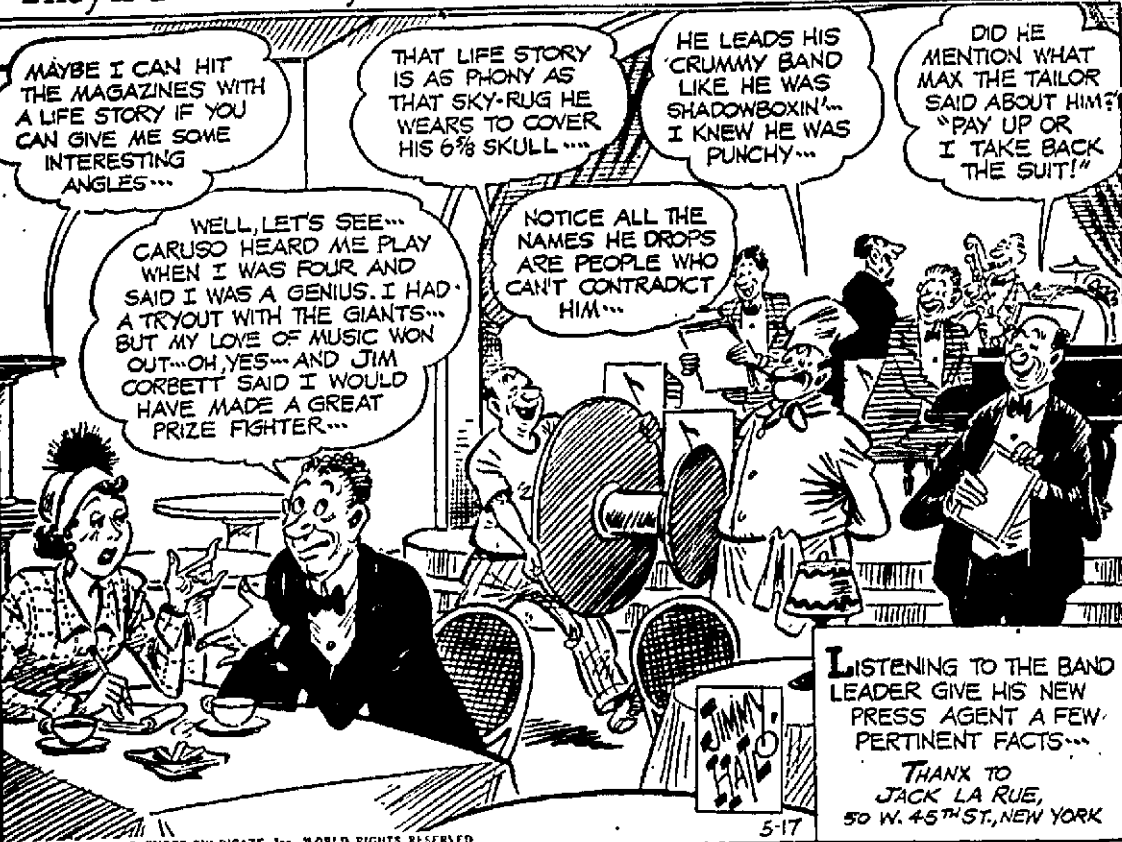

In an open house session, the hospital conducted hundreds of visitors on an hour and one-half bus and walking tours of its grounds and buildings. Special guides accompanied the groups and answered questions.

Guests saw nearly $3,000,000 of construction under way, including a $1,750,000 admissions and office building. They saw the million dollar 220-bed old-age building, a 900,000-gallon reservoir, 525 acres of contour farming land, a tuberculosis unit and farm colony building.

Much interest was shown in the work-therapy shops, where patients learn trades.

Taxation With Representation Bad Enough, Says Legislator

SPRINGFIELD, (Special)—Senator Frank P. Johnson (R-Kentucky) told a Springfield radio audience last night "If our forefathers thought that taxation without representation was bad, they should see it with representation."

Speaking on an "Inside the Session" broadcast sponsored by the Ill. Republican State Central Committee, Johnson said, "History has not yet proved that government can long endure when the unlimited right to vote is coupled with the unlimited power to tax."

"When historians write the record of our era they will say that one of the amazing phenomena of this period has been the patience, resourcefulness and ability of the American businessman. For the past 20 years he has been belittled, harassed, legislated against, held up for ridicule, regulated, regimented, ordered about, slapped down and slammed around until we marvel at his ability to keep his head above water."

Quick to Criticize
Johnson said, "The Republican legislature has been quick to criticize constructively any action of the Democratic administration that it feels is not conducive to economic progress and good government. But to confine itself to criticism is not the function of the Republican party in the 67th general assembly. Although we have blocked the enactment of much unsound legislation, I am happy to report that Republican members of both houses of the legislature have given their leadership to many bills that the people of Illinois have long needed and were unable to obtain when the legislative control was split between the two major parties. "Probably the most important of the crime commission bills — and certainly the one most feared by the "big shots" of the underworld—is the so-called "immunity bill." Under this bill a judge may order a witness in a criminal case to testify with assurance his testimony will not be used to incriminate him.

"Criminal Rats"
"The passage of this bill will make it impossible for Illinois to have a reputation of the disgraceful scenes before the Kefauver committee when these criminal rats, refused to speak on the grounds that it might incriminate me."

Next speaker on "Inside the Session" on Wednesday, May 30, will be Ben Rhodes, Normal, Republican state representative from the 26th district.
